JEREANN BOWMAN HIGH SCHOOL

CANYON COUNTRY, CALIFORNIA

VOLUME 1

1974

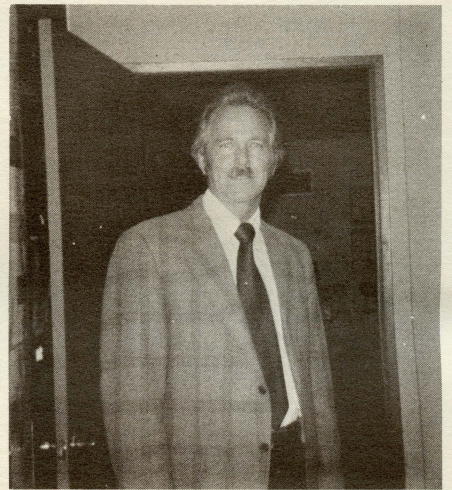

The publication of this yearbook is but one of the many fine things that have occurred at Bowman High School this year.

First, during our peak enrollment period, we had more than 200 students enrolled (a record), many of whom attend evening class offered for the first time at Bowman. We also have placed more than 55 students as teacher aides in the Saugus Elementary Schools.

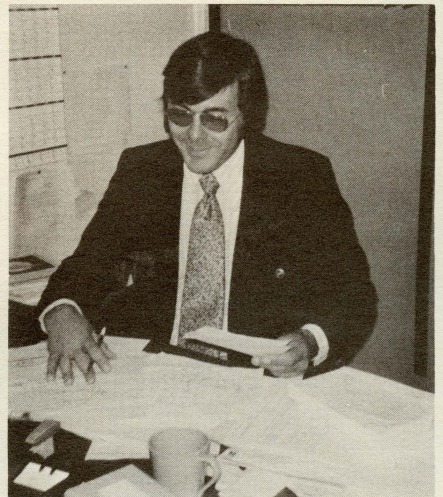

I think we can appreciate the efforts of all those who have made Bowman's first yearbook a reality. It's good to have a permanent record of events, activities, students, and staff because it helps give us a sense of identity.

May I compliment our student body for their alternate approach to education. I know you will enjoy this yearbook!

One of the good things going in '74 was the placement of 60 Bowman
students in elementary schools to work as teacher
aides. This program,
under the direction of Jackson Bates, gave Bowman students a chance to work actively with the children in elementary
classes. The project
proved to be both beneficial and enjoyable to all those involved.

T.A.'s shown here: Sue Lang, Tina Chandler, Kim Langlois, Keith Moore, Debbie Lindgren, Barbara Terry, and Bob Gray

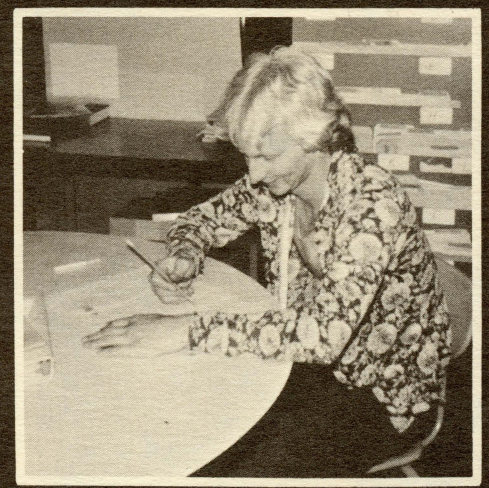

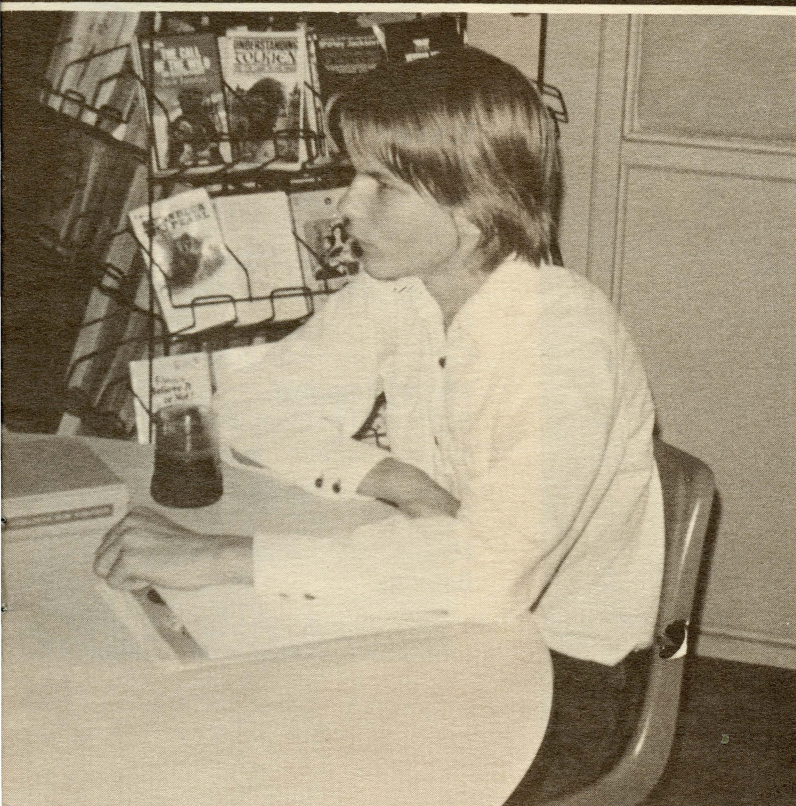

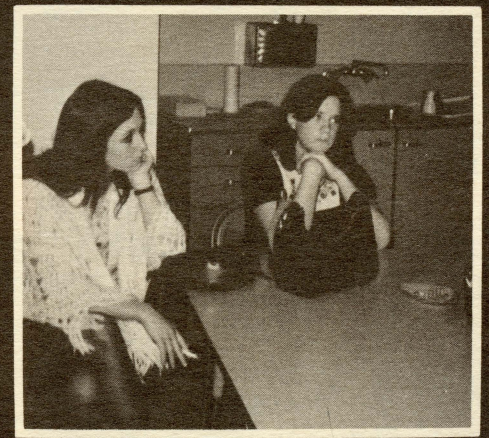

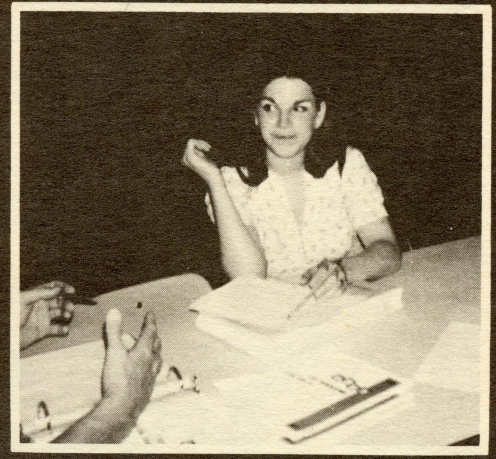

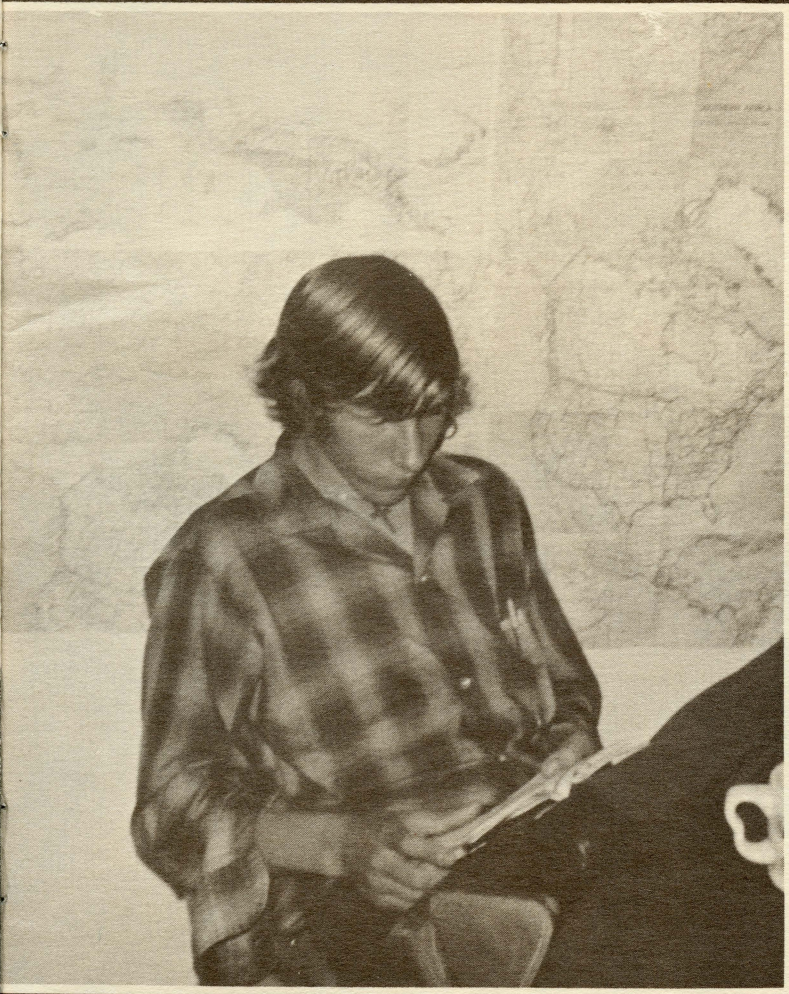

Students struggling with life's little problems: Sam Perry, George Andrews, John Crough, and Paul Fuller.

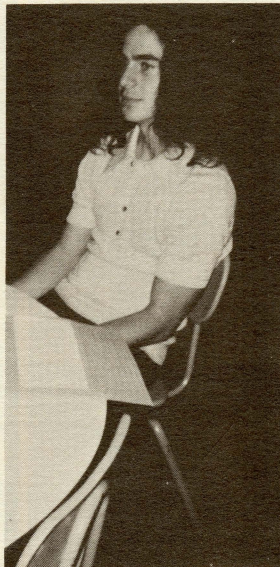

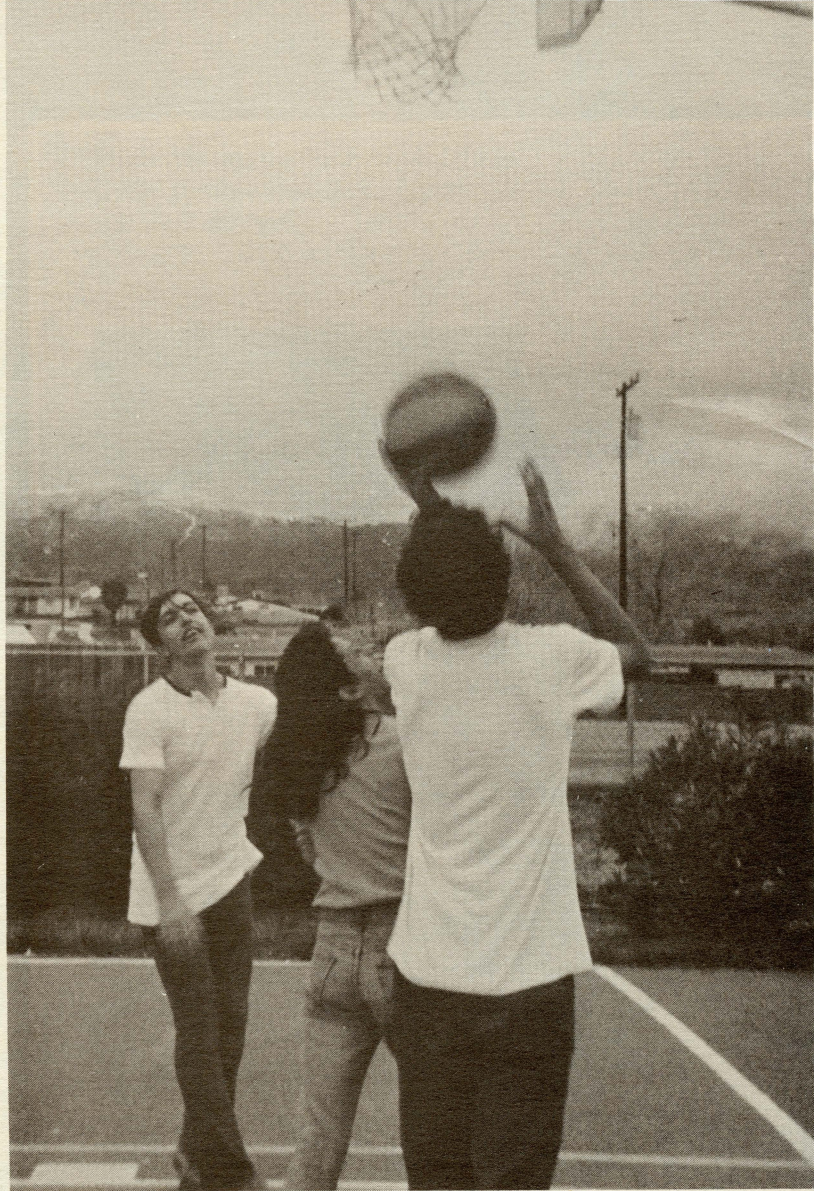

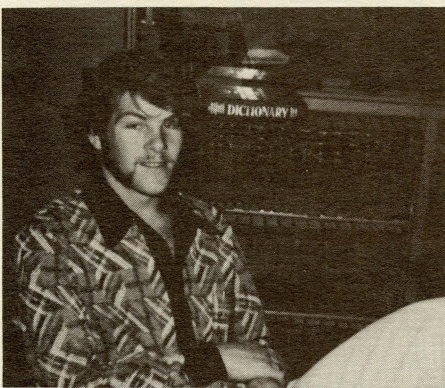

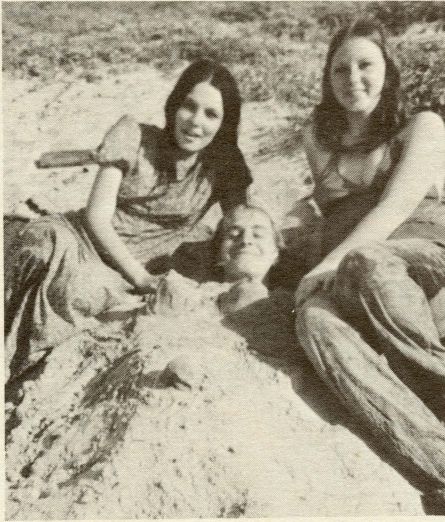

STRIFE 'N STRUGGLE...

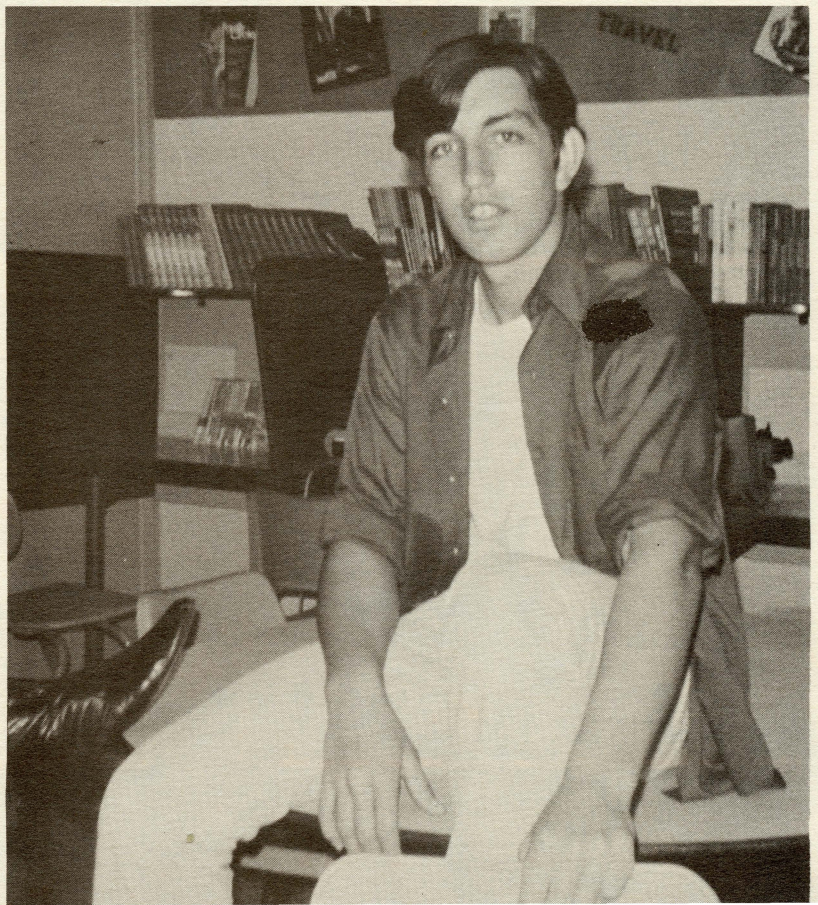

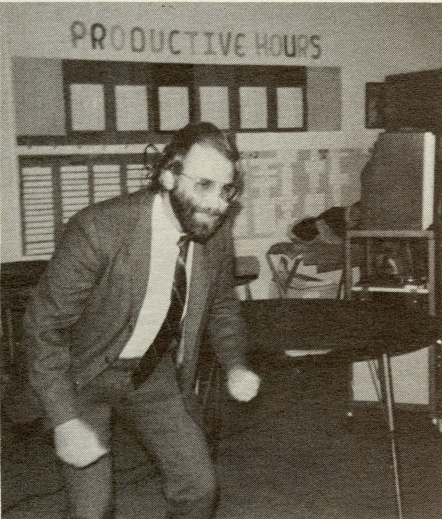

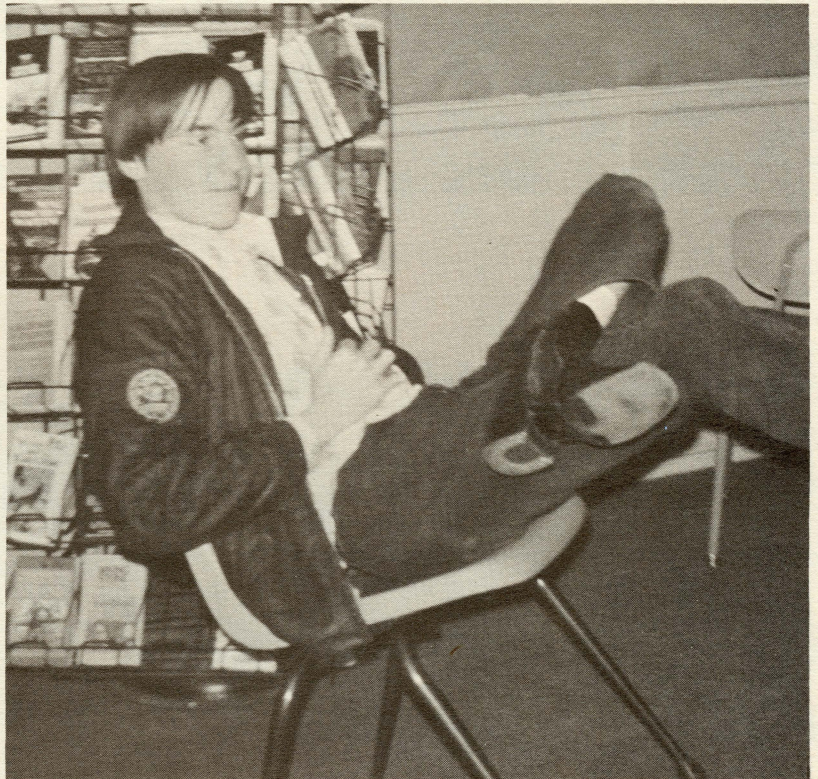

Serious problems of school are contemplated by: Rick Targett, Theresa Forshee, Kathy Hutchens, John Fogle, and Bill Forshee.

Relaxing: Pam Pilcher, Kacy Konnick, Sgt. Bob Warford, Dan Moreno, Angle Nieblas, Tim Rice and Bruce Blackstone. (page 23) Alva Guiterriez, and substitute teacher Bernie Shulte dance at the "talent" show. Also at ease are Scott Frack, Bruce Henderson, and Tod Brown.
