on our way to

What the world needs now is smart young people because we are the future of the country. I think that if I had to pick an age to be for my whole life, I'd choose 50 because I would know enough to live forever. One thing I know I do just like my parents is tell younger people what to do. I'm probably most proud of doing well in school. If I had the power, I'd like to end all wars, help the homeless, and protect our environment. When I see something I want to change but I can't - I get frustrated. The best piece of advice I've ever heard that I know will help steer me on the road to success is, "Don't mess up, and you'll get what you want."

Seth Panfil

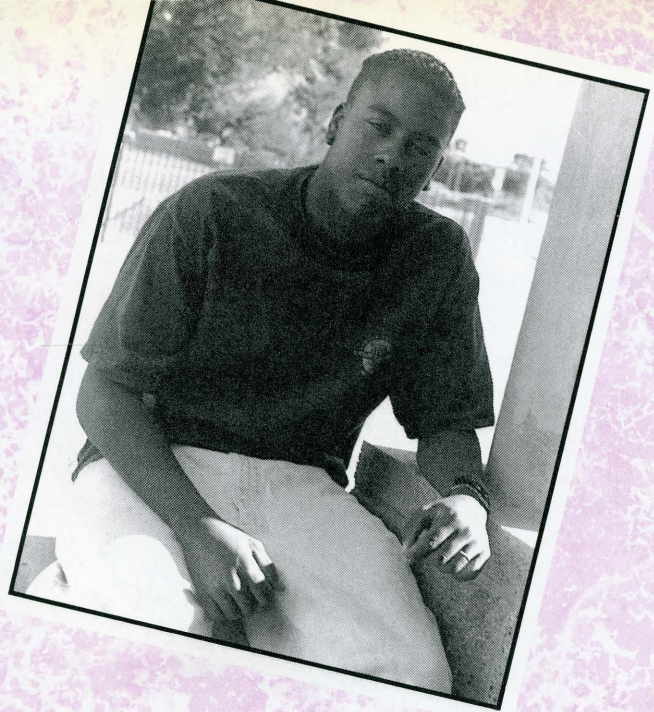

who knows where

The hardest thing about growing up is knowing that soon you're going to have to go out in the real world. One thing I dislike about myself is that I forget a lot of things. I wish I could remember more. Something I can do pretty well is SK8. If I had enough power to change the world, I would let everyone see how beautiful our world could be if we just had peace, love and harmony. Four things that are most important in my life are school, home life, my brother, and my job. The best piece of advice I've heard that will help steer me to the road of success is, "Take care of your future".

Nelson Holly

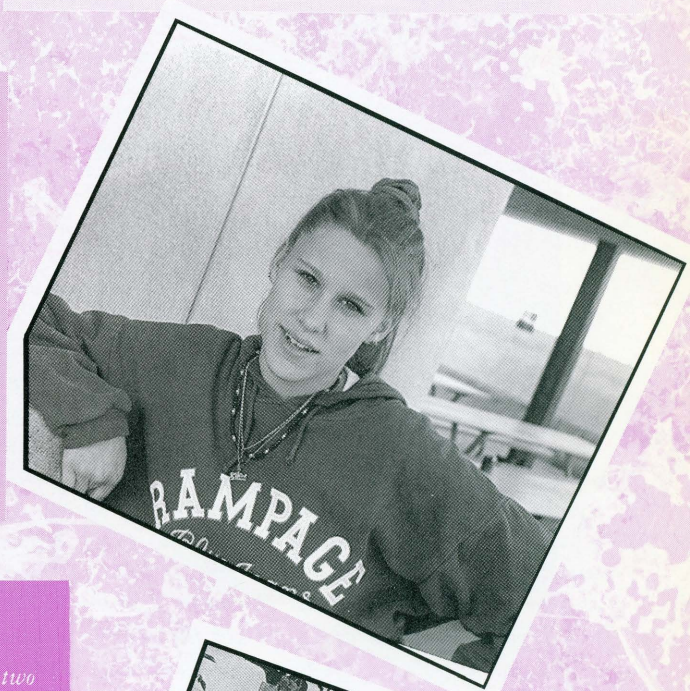

If I could have one wish, it would be to have a short bed king cab Chevy truck - it's my dream truck. One age I'd love to be for the rest of my life is 16 - it's the freest time of your life. There is no one I'd ever trade lives with. My life is just fine. I'm probably most proud of doing well here at Bowman. The most important thing I've learned about life in the last few years is that it's a "doggy dog world". You have to work for what you want. What makes me feel frustrated? Living with two women! Best piece of advice I've heard that I know will keep me on the road to success: "Do what you have to do and go for the gold with your head up."

Robel Douglas

I'm most proud of having held two jobs over the summer so that I could give my mom a helping hand. I would never trade lives with anyone, even if I could, because I started this life, and I want to finish it. I am very thankful for: living with my mom, my grandparents, and for being given another chance in school. If I could have one wish, it would be for world peace, making this a better place for the next generations. The best piece of advice I've ever heard is to stay in school and get your diploma.

Elisba Frias

I am proud of returning to school. I stopped going to school for two years, but I regret it now. I thought I could make it without an education, but I realized that I was wrong. Now I know that a good education will help me in my life. I would never trade lives with anyone because I'd never have the courage. It's taken me a long time to learn to deal with my own problems. I wish I had the power to change the world into a more peaceful place. There is way too much violence. When I get angry, I wrinkle my forehead, and I look like I'm about to explode! I think the rule my parents have about not talking to guys on the phone is stupid. I can't wait until I'm 21 years old - if I could stay that age forever, I would because I wouldn't be too young or too old.

Beatriz Torres

Happy it was very nice talking to you stay nice dont change. But can you cut down on calling my house just kidding. Bye!

Following Our Dreams ...

Peace and harmony are what the world needs now because there is just too much violence. If I could trade lives with anyone, it would be my friend Nicole because she has a great relationship with her parents. The hardest part about growing up is the pressure you feel from your parents and guys. One wish I have for myself is - a perfect life. I am really thankful for my friends who are always there for me, and for my parents who provide a life for me that most people don't have. "Stay in school until you graduate", is the best piece of advice I've heard that will help lead me on a successful path.

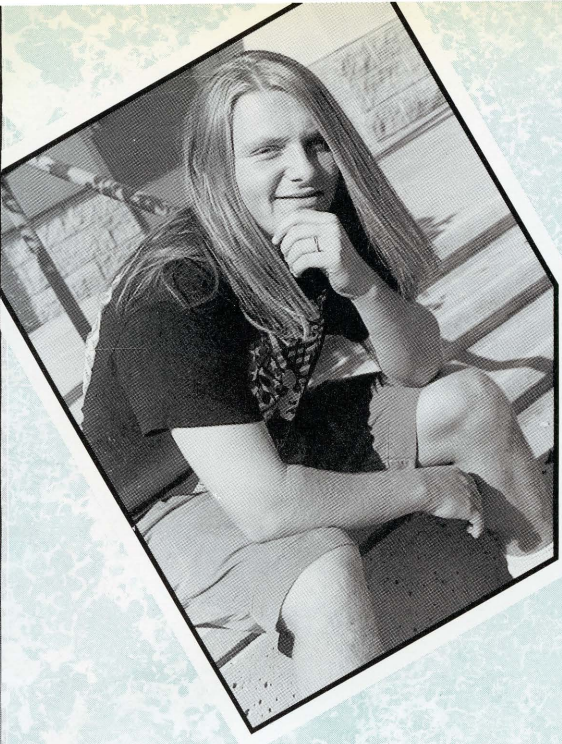

Cathy Molina

Anastasia is a name I would choose for myself because I like the way it sounds. If I could change one thing about the way I look it would be my height. Short is "too" cute. I'm really a very shy person, but some people think I'm spacey. What the world needs now is open-mindedness. All opinions need to be heard, more questions need to be asked. I think most problems could be resolved. I am very thankful for my mother and sisters and my dear friends. I get really frustrated when smart people choose to be ignorant. If I had enough power to change the world, I'd make sure morals, etiquette, and human kindness were all second nature, and that everyone would know it and not question it. The most important thing I've learned about life in the last few years is to not take life for granted - to live life to the fullest each day. Carpe diem - seize the day!

Ebony Borja

on the highway to success

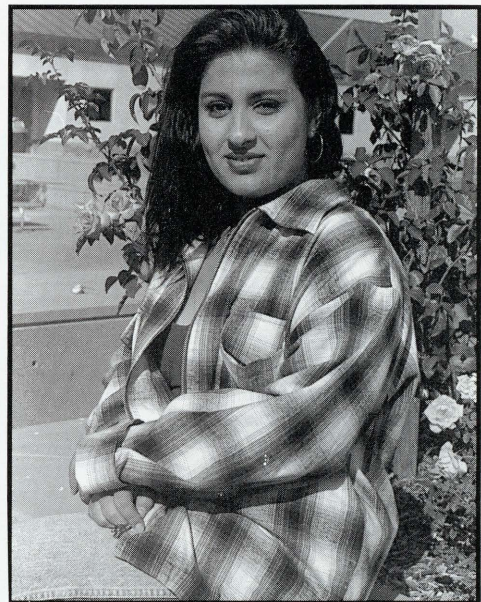

If I could change one thing about the way I look, it would be my lips because I think they're lopsided. I'm probably most proud of how I was during my bike racing career many years ago. I would never want to trade lives with anyone. I'm not perfect, but I'm me. The one thing I think I imitate from my parents is driving fast - it runs in my family. My one wish is to get a 1969 Boss 302 Mustang. What the world needs now is to join together and take care of itself because we are destroying the earth. The four most important things in my life are myself, my education, my music, and my mom. The best piece of advice I've heard that helps put me on the right road is, "lead your own life and don't let anyone else tell you how to live - follow your own dreams."

Grant Kole

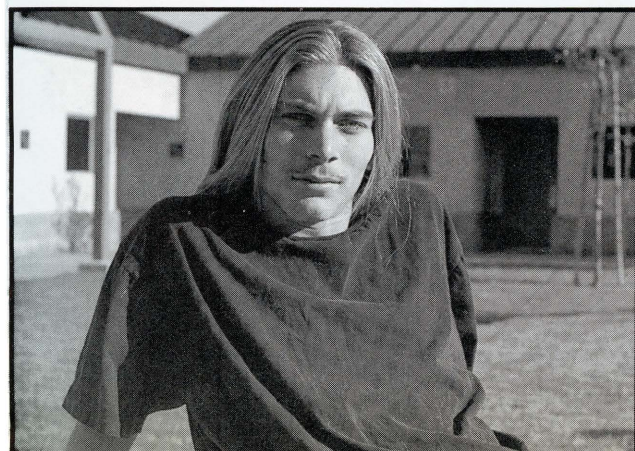

If I had the opportunity, I'd like to trade lives with my sister because she gets everything she wants. The hardest parts about growing up are the pressures that are put on you and the decisions you have to make. Sometimes I wish I were a little girl again so I could do things differently. If I were powerful enough to change things in this world to make it better, I'd remove all the weapons and drugs. The most important thing I've learned about life in the past few years is that when you're young, it is almost impossible to go out in the world and take care of yourself without your parents. I know because I tried it. Here's the best piece of advice I've heard, "You can't run away from your problems - you have to stay and solve them."

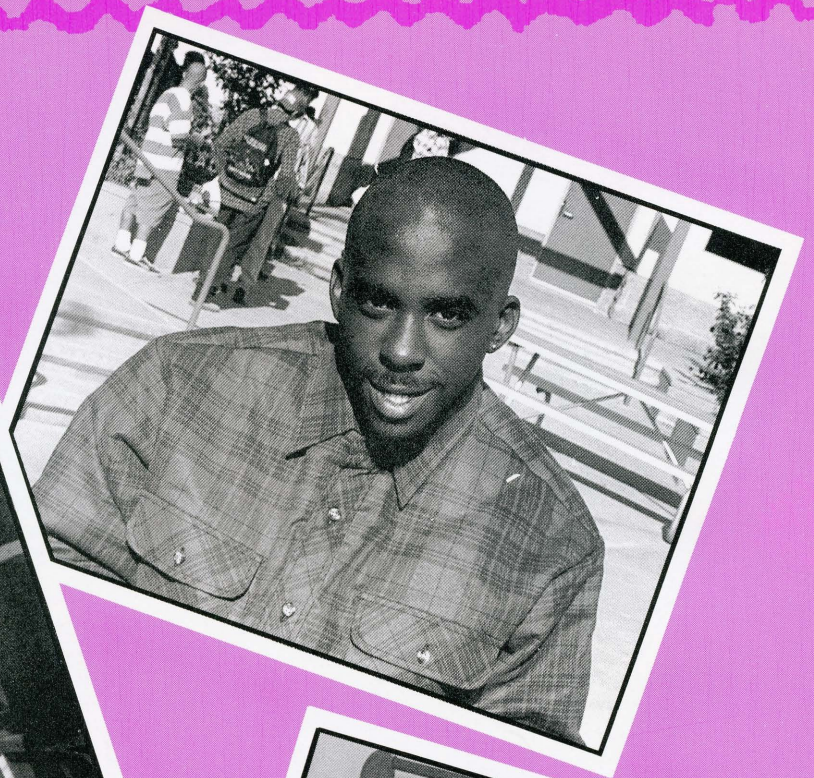

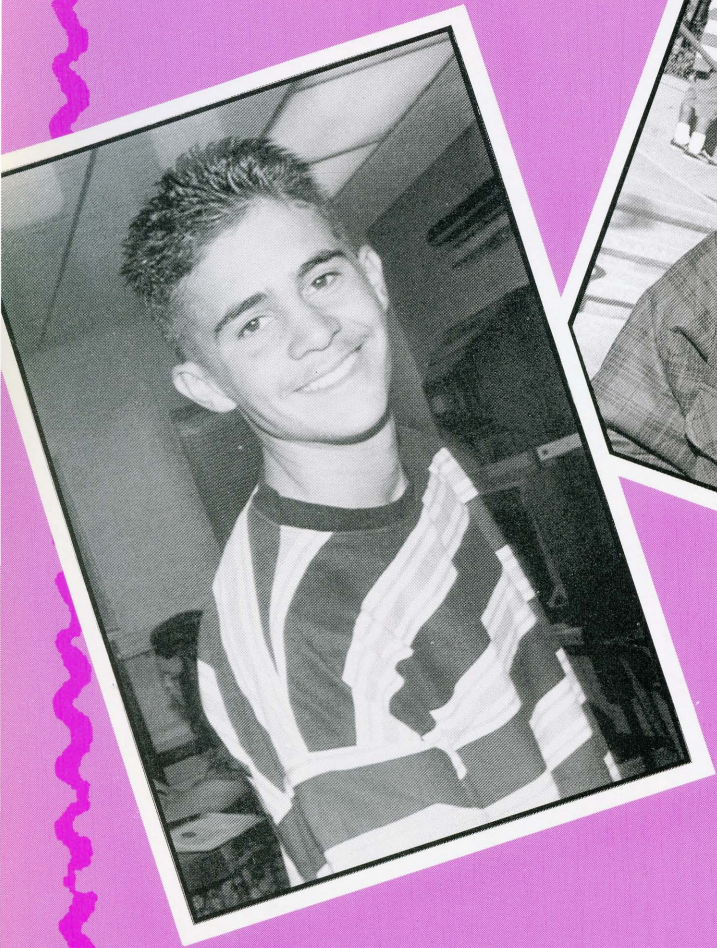

Raina Maroki

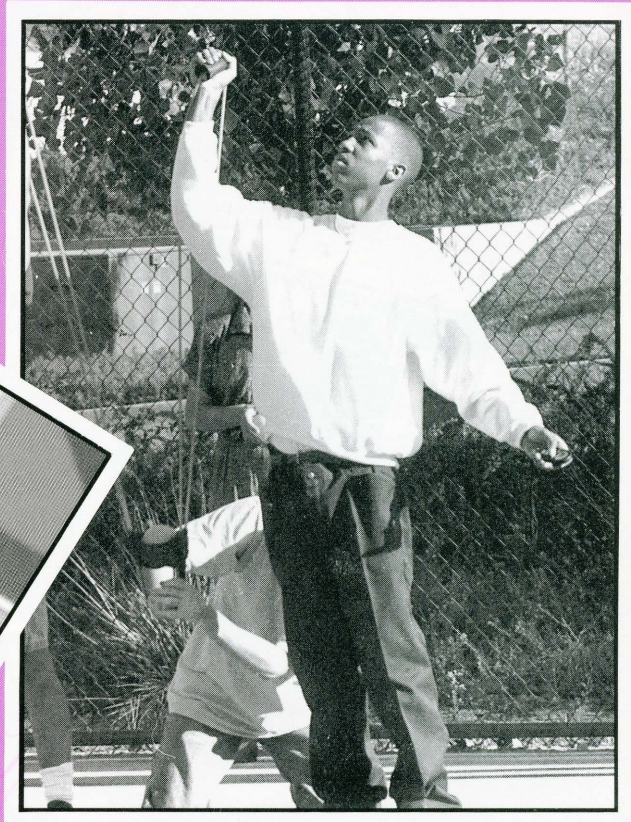

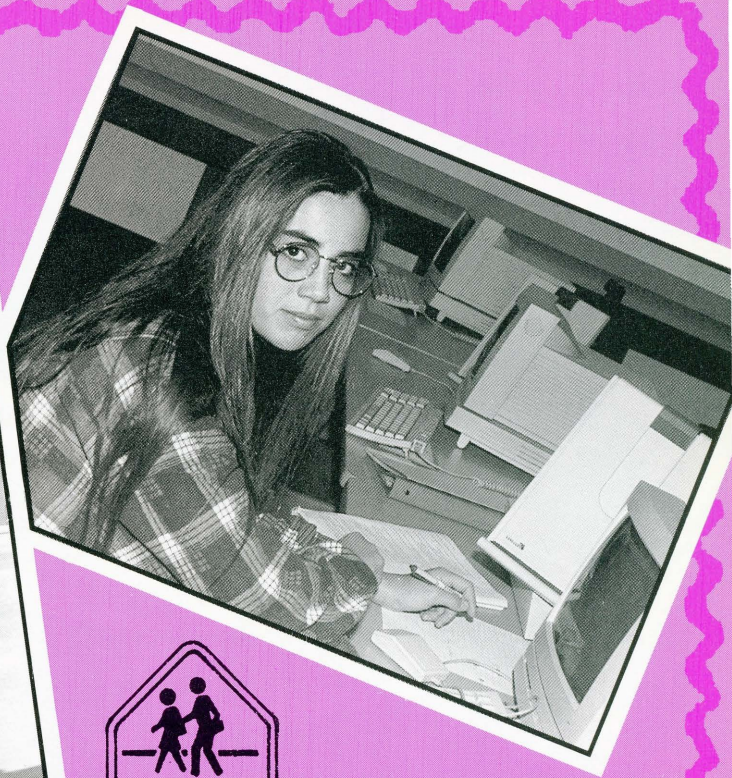

I kind of like the name Cornelius. It's a name I'd choose for myself because not very many people have it. One thing I wish I could change about the way I look is my scrawny body. I'm most proud of my art work. I think I'm pretty good at drawing pastel portraits. My plan for changing the world to make it better - fix the economy because everything is way too expensive. The most important thing I've learned about life in the past few years is to enjoy life while you can because it's too short. I stopped worrying about what other people think.

We were graced with sunny, clear skies on our Halloween Activity day this year. The atmosphere was filled with high energy and great spirit. The upbeat activities attracted many willing participants, including Marie Hoffman, Jason Basset, Alicia Gill, Julie Benton, and Danny Janeck. With style and a smile, Chanen Cass contributed to the win of her team as the only female tug of war member. Steve Mahan gracefully grinned and bravely bore the vicious attacks of slimy, wet sponges. Hard hitting Jeff Biscamp hit the pinata on the first try. Niki Brisselli and Ebony Borja gobbled their way to victory in the pie eating contests. Yum! Many creative students displayed their artistic talents in pumpkin carving.

For many, Bowman represents a kind of a detour from the road most students are expected to follow. Detours can be bumpy and a 'round about way of getting from here to there ... but they can also be an adventure filled with new ways of doing and seeing things. As with most teenagers, ours are on the road to find out ... more about themselves, their abilities, and the perseverance it takes to achieve one's dreams. As Frost suggested, they are on the road less traveled, and that can make all the difference.

A.S.B. exists to help make your journey on the academic road a smoother one. Some very dedicated and creative students give extra hours of their time to plan activity days. Will we ever forget the relay races, pie eating, or tug of war? A.S.B. thanks you for your support in donating canned foods in the annual collection for the needy of the Santa Clarita Valley. Thanks also for your continued enthusiasm in purchasing candy and soda. The funds earned from these goodies help to play for the decorations, food, and great prizes that you enjoy. The students who participated this year with A.S.B. advisor JoAnn Wilbour were: Amy Hunter - president, Danielle Juarez - vice president, Ruth Reyes, secretary/treasurer, Star Manning, Jeff Biscamp, Heather Braun, Jessica Riffe, and Araceli Infante.

A.S.B.

The thing I remember most about year-book is Debbie's hair falling out as the pages for deadline were to go in.

Star Manning

On the road to deadline ...

*On the road to deadline we go,
Through the hard times we keep the flow
Many times it is rough,
But we find out that we are tough.*

*We keep our sanity, we don't go insane,
But sometimes we act like a pain.
We get support from Debbie and Joy,
And they recruit Nelson, a favorite boy.*

*We take pictures, scads and scads,
And Lyon finds the misplaced ads
Star quickly picks up graphic layout,
And helps everyone without a doubt.*

*Araceli and Ruth in the darkroom with no light,
Printing pictures over and over to get them right.
Melodee is right on track,
Getting pages done back to back.*

*Holly never runs out of gas,
Developing film in more than one class*

*Thanks to all the students here,
Now there's no need to hide in fear
The cameras have stopped snapping pictures of you,
But next year we will be in pursuit.*

I may have joined the yearbook class late, but I had a ball while I was there. I will be glad when I can finally open the completed book and see it in one piece.

In Charles City, Virginia, the police barely broke a sweat apprehending a drug dealer during a nighttime raid thanks to the L.A. Gear Light Gear sneakers the suspect was wearing. • Clinton's "don't ask, don't tell" policy allowed gays the right to serve in the military. • Defense Secretary Les Aspin announced that women will be allowed to fly combat aircraft. • "Dope-smoking," "skirt-chasing," and "draft-dodging" were some of the phrases used by Air Force Major General Harold N. Foster was found dead in a Virginia park. He died of an apparent suicide. • Narrowly passing through the House and Senate, Congress approved Clinton's $496 billion deficit-reduction bill. • The unveiling of President and Mrs. Clinton's universal health care plan was overshadowed by questions about their involvement in the Whitewater scandal. • Twelve years after James Brady was wounded in an assassination attempt on Ronald Reagan, and after seven years of political struggle, the Brady bill was passed mandating a five day waiting period for the purchase of a handgun.

1 Dazzling Washington's most hard-nosed cynics, Hillary Rodham Clinton testifies before five Congressional committees to answer questions concerning the newly unveiled health care plan. She becomes only the third First Lady to testify before Congress.

2 Refusing to step down, Oregon Senator Bob Packwood faces accusations of sexual harassment from 26 women. Women's groups across the nation are demanding Packwood's resignation.

3 Janet Reno becomes the nation's first female attorney general. Under the Clinton administration, she is approved by the Senate 98-0. 4 Super photos from the once-blurred Hubble telescope give anxious NASA scientists something to cheer about after nearly four years of "Hubble trouble."
