The Santa Clarita Valley Boys' & Girls' Club
1982 Benefit Auction

OUR APPRECIATION AND WELCOME

The Santa Clarita Valley Boys' and Girls' Club gratefully acknowledges the generosity of all donations pledged in support of our 1982 Benefit Auction. It is through the far-reaching contributions of individuals, businesses and industries that tonight's Auction is presented. Your support continues to touch and enrich the lives of the youngsters of our community. It is through your concern and generosity that this youth organization exists.

We wish you a highly enjoyable evening and hope you continue to help us by bidding generously on the Auction items. The Santa Clarita Valley Boys' and Girls' Club welcomes you to its 11th Annual Benefit Auction.

THE BOYS' AND GIRLS' CLUB

The Boys' and Girls' Club is a youth guidance organization providing meaningful activity and character building programs for youngsters in the Santa Clarita Valley. Founded in 1968, it is part of a national network of organizations affiliated with the Boys' Clubs of America.

The most inclusive club in the valley, the Boys' and Girls' Club provides daily activities at 6 different program sites. Conveniently located on school grounds, the club is within easy walking distance for a large number of children. The well-rounded program includes Social Recreation, Co-ed Sports Leagues, Arts & Crafts and Special Events. Frequent trips and camp-outs are planned for weekends. The program operates during after-school and evening hours when youngsters are best able to attend.

The Boys' and Girls' Club employs a professional staff who are trained in the Boys' Club philosophy of providing informal guidance through individual and small group experiences. By recognizing and responding to the restless energies, curiosity, and youthful quest for "something to do", the Boys' and Girls' Club gives youngsters a chance to improve their lives by allowing them to develop values and skills during critical periods of growth. All youngsters can benefit by the programs provided by the Club. Perhaps those who benefit most are children residing in families where both parents work, or in families where there is only one parent.

The generous support of our community continues to provide the incentive for the Club's continued growth. In October of 1981 the Club's first permanent Clubhouse opened at Emblem School. The culmination of 5 years of planning, the facility has become the showcase for youth programming in the Santa Clarita Valley. In November of 1981 construction began on the Club's second permanent clubhouse, located on the campus of Sierra Vista Junior High School in Canyon Country. Similar in nature to the facility at Emblem, the ultramodern structure will double the capacity to serve the youngsters of this area.

From its inception the Boys' and Girls' Club has responded to growing needs for youth services through planned expansion and program development. Your continued support has brightened the dreams and hopes of thousands of youngsters.

An Historic Celebration Saluting OLD NEWHALL "1882"

A visitor to Newhall in 1882 probably would not have been very impressed with its appearance and certainly would not have gambled a dime on the village having any kind of a future.

Between Market and 8th St., facing San Fernando Rd., were a series of wooden false front buildings housing a restaurant, saloon, a couple of general stores, boarding house, feed, and some scattered residences. Across the dirt street, next to the railroad tracks, stood the sheds and depot of Southern Pacific's Newhall station.

Main Street, Newhall

Dominating the landscape would have been the two-story Victorian known as the Southern Hotel, squatting right across Market St. and with gardens and outbuildings stretching down to 6th.

Beyond San Fernando Rd. were oak-studded hills and valleys, broken by some farming activity and teeming with cattle.

Although small, it was a busy place and full of colorful characters. Cowboys from the Newhall Ranch clumped down the wooden sidewalks, spurs jingling and chaps swishing with each step. There were oil-stained roustabouts from the petroleum fields in Pico, Wiley, and Placerita Canyons. Hard rock miners from the Soledad passed cattlemen and farmers from the Castaic Hills, all in their distinctive dress. Up and down "Main Street", tall freight wagons rumbled by pulled by 10 or 20 mules, the gentry dashed up and down in buggies, while farmers drove to town in buckboards. Twice a week the great red Concord stagecoaches left the Southern bound for Ventura. Every day at 1:20 in the afternoon, with an ear splitting hissing of steam and sparks flying from the drivers, a mighty diamond-stack locomotive ground to a halt at the station, disgorging passengers, mail and crates full of merchandise. All activity in the town stopped when the train pulled in. This was really the highlight of the day. Overdressed women with lacy parasols raised high to protect them from the sun were on hand, as were children and teens, to greet the arrival of the steam engines. The train brought mail from relatives and eagerly-read newspapers from Los Angeles, the only contacts with the outside world.

What we now call Newhall was originally inhabited by a group of Indians called Tataviams along since 500 A.D. Their village was called Numubit and consisted of 20 or so grass-covered wikiups. "The People of the Sunny Hills" were generally peaceful and dined on acorns and snakes.

In August of 1769 Spanish troops arrived under the command of Gov. Don Gaspar de Portola, marched along Newhall Ave. and camped at Castaic Junction. Fr. Juan Crespi named the river and valley the Santa Clara, as it was the feast day of St. Claire.

Asistencia de San Francisco

Mission San Fernando was constructed in 1797 and the Indians were taught useful trades such as making tiles and herding cattle. By 1804, a sub mission, called San Francisco, was built at Castaic Junction which passed into the hands of the Del Valle family.

On January 22, 1839 the valley from Piru Creek to present Camp Plenty Rd., 48,611 acres, was granted to Don Antonio Del Valle. Two years later the don died and his holdings were divided between his widow and eldest son, Ignacio. In 1842 gold was discovered in Placerita Canyon, starting the first rush in California, six years before the Sutter's Mill find.

War broke out and, on January 10, 1847 John C. Fremont and his Buckskin Battalion camped at Castaic Junction, marched down Newhall Ave., bivouacked again where the Newhall Refinery stands today, and clawed their way over the pass that still bears his name.

The first "gringo" resident of the valley was Henry Clay Wiley, who, along with Jose del Valle, set up a stage stop at present day Eternal Valley cemetery in 1852. It was sold to the Lyon brothers, Sanford and Cyrus, two years later and eventually supported 20 families.

Gold was discovered on the Kern River and Ft. Tejon was established in Grapevine Pass about the same time in 1854. Caravans of camels rambled down from Tejon to Los Angeles until the outbreak of the Civil War, following a route blazed by Phineas Banning through San Francisquito Canyon, along San Fernando Rd. and over Fremont Pass. Banning ran his coaches and wagons up to the Kern until '58 when the Butterfield Overland Stage incorporated the section into their run from St. Louis to San Francisco. The Confederates cut the line, known as the Great Southern or Ox Bow Route, in 1862.

General Edward Fitzgerald Beale was a hero of the Mexican-American War, Surveyor General of California, and master of the sprawling 300,000-acre Tejon Ranch running from Gorman to the San Joaquin Valley. In 1863 the general received a grant from the Board of Supervisors in the amount of $5,000 "for road improvements", called out the army to hand-dig a 90 foot deep cleft through Fremont Pass, and then set up a toll house charging up to $2.00 for wagons clattering through his "Cut", a small fortune in those days. Teamsters paid gladly, as it was the only way out of Los Angeles northward.

Meanwhile, the Rancho San Francisco had gone through several owners when it was finally purchased by Henry Mayo Newhall on Jan. 15, 1875. Mr. Newhall came from Saugus, Mass. to seek his fortune in the California gold fields. Failing in this, he fell back on his trade of auctioneer and started a railroad line. Southern Pacific bought him out and Newhall began buying property. One of his investments was the Rancho San Francisco, which just happened to be on the Southern Pacific right-of-way. Construction was already underway to link the state from north to south by twin ribbons of steel. On the 5th day of September, 1876 Charles Crocker, with 5 well-placed blows, drove a golden spike uniting the tracks at Lang Station in Soledad Canyon.

A month later, October 28, 1876, a depot constructed of redwood, brought from the north by rail, opened its doors. It was named by Crocker and Stanford for the man who owned the land Newhall Station. Curiously enough, it was not located where the town stands today, but was at present day Saugus. The first resident was the station agent, John T. Gifford, who made his home in a box car located on a siding.

By the end of the year George Campton built a home and general store, Mrs. Sam Harper was running a boarding house with 4 rooms and a dining area, and the ever present saloon was operated by Mr. Wilson.

The years following the founding of the town were very dry and, with the wells running low, it was decided to move a few miles southward. On January 15, 1878 the village was picked up and re-located to Railroad and Market Streets, the whole operation completed by February 15.

Almost immediately Henry M. Newhall began construction of his Southern Hotel. By October it was ready, featuring 40 rooms of splendor in the wilderness. Managing the establishment was Mr. J.O. Newhall (a cousin of Henry M.) and his charming wife. D.W. Fields sub-let a grocery store in the corner; there was a commodious well furnished reading room; while D.W. Boynton ran a "Genteel Bar", obviously a slap at Wilson's rowdy Saloon. Some of the guests were Elias J. "Lucky" Baldwin, famed for his horses and Rancho Santa Anita. William Workman, "Uncle Billy" to his friends, was a pioneer Southern California banker. Helen Hunt Jackson spent the night of January 22, 1882 on her way to the Camulos near Piru where she would find a setting for her immortal novel, "Ramona."

By 1882 there were 10 homes in Newhall, including Mr. Gifford's, who had finally moved his family out of their box-car. The Pacific Coast Oil Co. (a predecessor of Standard Oil-Chevron) was building a large warehouse, office, and residence for visiting VIPs north of the depot. Alex Mentry was bringing in a string of gushers for the company out in Pico Canyon.

There was no schoolhouse yet; that would be 5 years in the future. It would be another 9 years before the residents felt the need for a community church. No newspaper chronicled the daily lives of the citizenry. Any news was strictly word-of-mouth gossip.

Newhall Elementary School

If there had been a paper, certainly the big event of the year would not have been President Chester A. Arthur's establishment of the Civil Service, the bombardment of Alexandria by British Admiral Seymour, nor the revolt in Austria-Hungary. No, the major story of '82 concerned the town's founder.

Henry M. Newhall arrived at his sprawling ranch from the city of San Francisco to inspect and audit operations. Having a horse saddled for him, Mr. Newhall took a leisurely canter across the grassy rolling hills. The mount stumbled, throwing its rider to the ground. Suffering serious internal injuries, he was carried to The Southern where it was decided to remove him to San Francisco for adequate medical care. From the Rancho San Francisco to the town of San Francisco on the bay he was taken. There he quietly passed away on March 13, 1882.

With him died an era of Indians, missions, pioneers, explorers, and empire builders. 1882 marked the end of Spanish hopes for regaining their ranchos. For better or for worse, this was a turning point in history. The future held growth, the establishment of new towns, change, and progress into the twentieth century.

In that class of prominent American piano firms which include Baldwin, Steinway, and Chickering, this "Sohmer" baby-grand is beautifully appointed in its brown-tone decorator finish. Its 5-foot (front to back) length, with keys of ebony and ivory, provide rich and mellow tones which are reinforced by a beautiful sounding board in particular evidence when the cover is raised. From frame to casters this piano is in very good condition. A motivational instrument for that true or budding virtuoso, this piano was built in 1941.

TIPS FOR STAGE RIDERS OMAHA HERALD, CIRCA 1880

"The best seat in a stage is the one next to the driver. If the team runs away - sit still and take your chances. If you jump, nine out of ten times you will get hurt. Don't smoke a strong pipe inside the coach - spit on the leeward side. Don't lop over neighbors when sleeping. Never shoot on the road as the noise might frighten the horses. Don't discuss politics or religion. Don't grease your hair, because travel is dusty".

1240 INTERESTED IN ANTIQUE CARS? Truly symbolic of a vintage era, this item does not have wheels that roll or an engine that runs, but as a collector's item it is magnificent. This 1910 Oldsmobile liquor decanter is a limited edition in glassy black with fire engine red seats and gold trim. Transporting its 25.4 oz. of 80-proof vodka, this replica is both functional and an attractive show piece with detailing that will draw considerable attention.

1305 LIKE TO GET GREASY & learn something at the same time? You won't want to miss this, especially if you happen to have a bad transmission. Jerry's Automatic Transmissions in beautiful Canyon Country will donate all parts to rebuild most any American or foreign automatic transmission. But here is the kicker---you provide the labor. Yes, you will be doing the work, but Jerry will be looking over your shoulder to make certain you do it "Automatically right the first time", as well as provide all necessary tools, equipment, shop towels, bandaids, etc. And, after you are finished & Jerry has road tested your car, your transmission will have a minimum of a one year or 12,000 mile guarantee - in writing - that will be honored at any ATRA (Automatic Transmission Rebuilders Assn.) affiliated shop throughout the U.S., Canada or Mexico. Sound good? Heck, you might even get a job offer!!!

Manual of Social and Business Forms

Proper Calling: Ladies expecting calls on New Year's should be in readiness to receive from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Upon calling, the gentlemen are invited to remove overcoat and hat, which invitation is accepted unless it is the design to make the call very brief. Gloves are sometimes retained upon the hand during the call, but this is optional. The call should not exceed ten or fifteen minutes, unless it is mutually agreeable to prolong the stay. The ladies should have a bright, cheerful fire and a table, conveniently located in the room, with refreshments, consisting of fruits, cakes, bread and other food, such as may be deemed desirable. No intoxicating drinks should be allowed.

Improper Calling: Disagreeable callers are the husband and wife who come with a child and a small dog; the husband making himself familiar with the hostess, the dog barking at the cat, the child taking free run of the house, while the wife, passes around the room, handling and examining the ornaments.

Some evening callers make themselves odious by continuing their visit too long, and even when they have risen to depart they lack decision to go but will stand several minutes before taking final leave, and then when wraps are on, will tell one more story while the hostess protects herself as best she can from the incoming gusts of wind and storm, sometimes thus taking a cold that ends in death. When the guest is ready to go - go.

VAUDEVILLE SKIT, CIRCA 1890

Mistress: Maggie, have you put fresh water in the goldfish bowl?

Maid: No, they ain't drunk up what I gave'em yesterday.
